Statement on principal adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors

Financial market participant

Frontier Investment Management ApS, company number (CVR no.) 33365586 ('FIM').

Summary

FIM considers the principal adverse impact of its investment decisions on sustainability factors. The present statement contains the aggregated principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors of FIM's underlying investments.

This is the first principal adverse sustainability impacts statement published by FIM. The first reference period concerning FIM will be 1 January 2022 to December 31 2022.

FIM has a number of procedures in place to take action in relation to potential principle adverse sustainability impacts including several ESG standards and assigning an ESG-manager to all investments, an exclusion list excluding certain asset classes, and monitoring of investments through reporting and management of ESG. FIM has several policies that helps identify and prioritize principal adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors. All polices are reviewed at least every second year. FIM does not invest in any listed securities and has therefore not implemented a shareholder engagement policy in the investment strategy. FIM adheres to several international standards.

Description of the principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors

FIM invest solely in renewable energy infrastructure projects. Data in connection to measure the potential negative impacts on sustainability indicators comes directly from the projects and the data collection for all PAI has been carried out to the best of our ability.

Description of policies to identify and prioritise principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors

FIM has the following policies in place that helps identify and prioritize principal adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors:

- Environment, Health, and Safety Policy (last approved 2022): Describes how FIM and all investments ensures that they comply with all relevant and applicable national and international legislations, regulations, and conventions beyond the legal and regulatory requirements on environment, health, and safety, as per the Funds' ESG Requirements.
- Social, Labour, and Human Rights Policy (last approved 2022): Describes how FIM and all its investments will meet its commitments in social equity, liveability, health equity, community development, social capital, social support, human rights, labour rights, place making, social responsibility, social justice, cultural competence, community resilience, and human adaptation.
- Business Integrity, Anti-Bribery & Corruption, and Corporate Governance Policy (last approved 2022): Describes how FIM takes measures to ensure that the businesses in which the Funds' capital is invested, exhibit honesty, integrity, fairness, diligence, dependability, truth-telling, and respect in all business dealings

The responsibility for the implementation of these policies lies with the investment team with support from the ESG team. All policies are subject to reviews and will be updated at least every second year.

Engagement policies

FIM does not have an engagement policy as its funds currently does not invest in shares that is trading on a regulated market situated or operating within EU. However, FIM will engage with the investee companies to ensure that sustainability related topics are prioritized. If FIM has cause to believe that an investee company is unable or unwilling to respect sustainability related topics, FIM will take specific action to engage with the company.

References to international standards
